Constantly looking forward to an improved Glendale Union High School, Robert Ashe has completed his second year as superintendent with the admiration and liking of both faculty and student body. His philosophy of education may be summed up as "Do for the student — give him a break. And have confidence in him." Glendale High is fortunate to have this man with modern ideas at the helm.

Easily the best set of teachers in the state — ask Mr. Gieseke—these men and women have won both respect and liking from the students. A teacher's life is not as easy as you might think — there are papers to be marked, plans to formulate, committees to serve on, courses to take — but this group does a swell job in spite of everything. The "tip-off" on their characters is that the students regard them as real friends.

Lonnie Burchett

Mont L. Dowell

A SALUTE TO THE

CUSTODIAL STAFF

P. C. (Sy) Sypherd and Kenard Trebil

It's amazing how many things can go wrong with a school's physical plant. And it's amazing how those things can go wrong all at once. But do Lonnie, Sy, Ken, and Mr. Dowell lose their tempers? You bet they do! After all, the fellows are only human . . . and taking care of a large school like GUHS is enough to try the patience of Job.

But in spite of fuming and fussing, nothing ever goes wrong without one of the boys immediately getting after it and setting it to rights. And no teacher or student has ever found them too busy to lend a helping hand in a rushed or tough situation.

They're a top maintenance and bus crew, both in skill and in personality.

A famous teacher at GUHS once remarked, "To me Van represents the West as you'd expect to find it." What he obviously meant by this is that D. L. Van Camp is a smooth-tempered, easy-going fellow with a darned good sense of humor and a cheery hello for anyone who drops into his office in the boiler house.

So popular is Van with everyone that the male faculty members have made his office their noon-hour hangout.

Van, not so old in years, is a real old-timer at GUHS, having come here from Wisconsin in 1920. In his 28 years here, he's seen students graduate and then seen their children graduate.

GUHS is very close to Van's heart, for he's seen it, too, grow up. As he puts it, "Sometimes I feel I own the place."

Because he's the kind of man who makes everyone feel better for knowing him, and because he takes a real interest in the welfare of the school, and because he's gained wisdom from being an observer of life and has passed that wisdom on, it is to

THAT WE DEDICATE THIS BOOK

Caught in their usual noon-hour hang-out are, left to right, Lonnie Burchett, Mr. Gieseke, Mr. Levin, Mr. Crouch, Mr. Hefelfinger, Mr. Ellis, and Mr. Whatley. Absent from the scene are other frequenters of the boilerhouse such as Mr. McAllister, Mr. Allen, and Mr. Stanley.

The gentlemen usually meet here to discuss philosophy and other very deep subjects.

A Dedication And A Flag-Raising

Between halves of the Glendale-Tucson football game this past fall, the students of Glendale Union High dedicated the stadium as a memorial to the youth of the community who fell in World War II. Civic interests raised funds for a bronze statue and granite base, and the senior class donated a flag-pole. In an impressive ceremony, Sonny Harelson, Evelyn Woods, and Billy Williams, on behalf of the students of GUHS, made the presentation. The solemn hush that fell over the large crowd of spectators bespoke the feeling of the occasion.

The Students Produce A Musical

Entirely student-produced with Billy Williams and Lois and Louise Craig as producers and Ruth Towne as general assistant, "Ol' Man River" proved a smash hit when performed before the general public, and by popular request was repeated in assembly next day. All proceeds went to the Publications Fund. Included in the large cast were George Musack, Billy Williams, Lois and Louise Craig, Don Gibson, La Frae Medlin, Peggy Williams, Richard Mabrey, Evelyn Woods, Janet Bennett, Darlene Kraai, Marilyn Newkom, and the Boys Chorus and Glee Club. Stage settings were made by Nadine Verplank, George and Orlan Hicks and members of the cast.

Senior Play, 'Love Is Too Much Trouble'

Setting a new box-office-gross record of over $400, the senior play, produced and directed by Mr. Robert C. Scott, featured performances which left the audience commenting enthusiastically on the versatility of high school students. All the Glendale drug stores and Mr. Heffelfinger combined to produce a wonderfully realistic setting for the farce, action of which took place in a sweet-shop called "The Poison Pot." The plot was not as important as the laugh-evoking situations it produced and the student actors took full advantage of them. A sincere tribute: the audience never grew restless.

A Sample Of This Year's Assemblies

Remember the fine assemblies staged this year by both students and national groups? The Christmas play, Everman and Liquid Air, the art assembly, the magician and his "company," the Spanish assembly, the a cappella choirs, the blind xylophonist—just a few of the many fine presentations. Responsible for the scheduling and staging of most of these productions is Mrs. Novilla Lale who is assisted by an extremely capable stage crew made up of Richard Barrett, Wendell Crow, Jack Brown, Dale Loney, and Bill Corbin. These boys gave unselfishly of their time and effort and were awarded a Hi-Lights commendation.

The Student Council Goes To A Convention At Nogales And Does A Bit Of Sight-Seeing

The Student Councils of all high schools in Arizona having such organizations met in Nogales, Arizona, early in December for a convention. Representing GUHS, the entire Student Council together with Mr. Ashe and Mr. Scott journeyed there in two cars. For two days the group discussed why's and wherefore's with other groups, visited interesting places, hunted for souvenirs, played, danced, and had an all-around good time. Meetings were held at the host school, Nogales Senior High, and excellent ideas were bandied back and forth. All of which proves that business and fun mix if handled right.

Featuring the most famous of Gilbert and Sullivan's airs, "The Mikado," a light operetta, was presented by the Boys' and Girls' Choruses under the direction of Mr. Al Davis on March 18 and 19. The stage setting and the colorful costumes lent an air of pleasant unreality to the show. Principal roles were held by Aldo Mancino, Richard Mabrey, Alvie Yates, George Musack, Marilyn Newkom, Lorraine Ray, Jo Ann Schlosser, Ernestine Ware, Patsy Warren, Patsy Bantum, Donna MacPherson, Doris Still, Beki Sigworth, Jackie DeBolt, and Joyce Leach. The production, the first operetta in three years, proved a smash success.

The School Has A Clean-Up Day

Utilizing the slogan, "Clean Up, Fix Up, Paint Up," the City of Glendale, in a burst of civic pride, decided at the end of February to have a work holiday in order to lift the face of the town. Businesses and schools closed for the afternoon and following a rally in the city park, everyone moved to add his touch to shining up the municipality. At school, classes under teacher supervision cleaned the grounds and trimmed the shrubs and trees. Mr. Ashe heard many comments that the school had never looked so clean—on the basis of this, the students and faculty received his commendation.

It's Rodeo Time At Glendale High

Given an opportunity to dress up in levis, fancy shirt, and ten-gallon hat, just watch a Western kid jump for the chance. And that's just what the boys and girls of GUHS did when a preview of the annual Glendale Rodeo was held at a special 12:30 assembly. The rodeo, staged on school grounds this year, held extra interest for students because profits were to go to flood-lighting the baseball field. The chutes and arena were laid out on the football field and the stadium accommodated a capacity crowd for three shows. Many a cowboy felt the impact of our football-hardened turf.

Meet the Members of the Hi-Y Club

Under the auspices of Mr. Robert Scott, the Glendale Chapter of the Hi-Y Club has more than achieved its ideals, to extend and create high standards of Christian character in school and community. Activities for this year have included the sponsoring of a Boys' Boosters Club corresponding with the Girls' Pep Club, co-operation with the Mothers' Recreation Club, parties within the organization, and raising money for the World Youth Fund. Bill Andrews, vice-president, was sent as a representative of the group to the National Hi-Y Convention at Asilomar, California. The club includes some of the outstanding boys in school on its roster.

And Its Sister Group, The Y-Teens

A new society on our roster of clubs is the Y-Teens, girls' chapter of Hi-Y. Composed of twenty-two freshmen, sophomores, and junior girls, this group was organized and is sponsored by Miss Muriel Dawson. Despite its youth the Y-Teens has really gotten "into the swing" of things during its first year by giving a tea for the faculty and club officers, selling candy at the rodeo and during noon hours to raise money for its fund, giving parties for club members and contributing to other local projects on the side. Good luck to a worthwhile organization.

Here Are The Girls Who Have Done Notable Work In Athletics — Letter Girls

Proudly displaying their hard-earned school letters, the Letter Girls have affiliated themselves into an organization comparable to the Lettermen's Club. A branch of the Girls' Athletic Association and advised by Mrs. Clyda Martin, these nine girls have worked hard and shown athletic skill for several years before they are awarded the treasured letters. Members in the club are Melba Jo Adams, Marian Crouch, Norma McDonald, Margie Mondo, Ann Sexton, Josie Sing, Charlotte Soto, Jo Ann Morin, and Bert Vizcaya. The fact that they are members of the organization is proof positive that they are good sports and have love of honest athletics.

The Backbone Of Social Life—Dances

Typical of the two types of dances given by GUHS students are the Harvest Dance held to celebrate the election of the Harvest King and Queen and the Frosh-sponsored all school dance held in the Woman's Club to raise funds for the CARE drive. Dances at GUHS are highly informal, decorations are usually in good taste, and each one seems more successful than the last. Most of the dances are sponsored by the Mother's Recreation Club, but a few held during the year were given under other sponsorships.

We've A Versatile Bunch Of Kids

One might think that Glendale Union High School is seemingly a place where students study—sometimes, that is—and do nothing else. The picture below should give the lie to this impression. Here at GUHS we have much talent, real talent. Here during the year the students are busy constructing, creating, and working on displays, models, exhibits, pictures, and scenery. There seems to be no limit to the versatility of the boys and girls, who make real successes out of school affairs. Even the teachers themselves are sometimes pleasantly surprised.

A Dinner, A Banquet, A Tea and A Party

Each year at GUHS, certain social events are traditional. These events—things like the student mixer, the football banquet, the Every Girl's Banquet, the faculty picnic, the senior party, to mention a few—are legion and their pictures would require more space than we have available. Some are portrayed elsewhere in the book; some are below. The FFA Father-Son Dinner is under the direction of Mr. Allen, with a culinary assist by Mrs. Heitmeyer. The Every Girl's Banquet is a Girls' League event, Mrs. Imes in charge. The Y-Teens Tea is under the direction of Miss Dawson. Mr. Scott and Mrs. McGowan sponsored the senior party.

Our Athletic Stars – The Lettermen

Having duly won their much-to-be-desired letters, approximately thirty Cardinal huskies are members of the Lettermen's Club. This group was founded as a means of giving honor to deserving and outstanding athletics and the furthering of good sports at Glendale High School. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Earl Gieseke, these boys have completed various projects this year. They gave a dance, put on the annual Father and Son Banquet, sold pop and peanuts at games during the football season, and raffled off a football. New members were initiated into the club, and plans made for next year's activities during meetings held at the end of this school year.

The National Honor Society

The National Honor Society, sponsored by Mrs. Clardy, is an organization founded to honor students with a better-than-average rating in both scholastics and school service. The society is composed of fifteen seniors who, with the aid of the faculty, select the beginning group for next year from the junior class. Activities have included making bookmarks for the library, initiations of members, holding an auction sale of food, getting new numbers for the auditorium seats, and giving a dinner for various members of the faculty. Club pins are a gift to all members from the GUHS faculty.

Here Are The Girls Who Back Up All Our Sports At Glendale High - The Pep Club

Sponsored by Mrs. Clyda Jean Martin, the Pep Club is an organization of seventy-five school spirited girls who staunchly uphold school teams and support all school and community activities. During the full and successful school year of 1947-1948, they sold raffle tickets for the Lion's Club rodeo and aided in the infantile paralysis drive besides holding other affairs within the club. Annual club events include the Round-up Banquet and snappy drilling during the half-time at football games. Every girl in the club has to maintain a good scholastic standing and be eager to make any sacrifice for GUHS.

Four important members of the Glendale High School Pep Club are the animated cheerleaders, Jackie Allen, Marian Crouch, Virginia Dick, and Ann Sexton. At any Glendale game, either at home or away, these girls can be found leading a lusty yell before the cheering crowds for "our boys." Marian, Ann, and Virginia are veteran yell leaders but Jackie is a newcomer to the group. Besides their usual cheering during all football and basketball games, these girls trained the girls who will conduct the cheering section next year and participated in all Pep Club activities.

The Girls' League Council And Officers

An organization made up of every girl in GUHS, the Girls' League strives for the betterment of our school and the spiritual and moral ideals of our girls. Under the able direction of Mrs. Harriet Imes, this club carried numerous activities to successful completion, including the Every Girl's Banquet, Student Mixer, Co-Ed Week climaxed by a Sadie Hawkins dance, and other school and community projects. Giving unselfishly of time and energy, the Girls' League Council, composed of officers and two representatives from each class, plans and supervises all activities within the club.

The Juniors Produce A Fine Play

A three-act comedy, "Digging Up The Dirt", was presented by members of the junior class in the auditorium on Friday evening, April 9, under the direction of Mr. Jay Nelson. The play proved an hilarious success. Mr. McAllister was in charge of ticket sales and make-up, and realistic scenery was made by Mr. Heffelfinger and the stage crew. Included in the cast, which was applauded enthusiastically, was Harold Fugate, James Belk, Dick Campbell, Ernest Gunnell, Jackie DeBolt, Evelyn Woods, Dorothy Smith, Margaret Beaver, Tom Cubbage, and Lorraine Ray. Mr. Nelson, although new to the school, did a fine job of directing the students in the play.

The Journalism Class Does A Solo On The Job Of Publishing Cardinal Hi-Lights

Working like fiends to get the ever-popular Cardinal Hi-Lights out on time, the twenty students of Mr. A. H. Levin's second period journalism class compose the complete newspaper staff. This group, besides putting out a newspaper every other week, instigated a campus clean-up, started a drive for a teen-age canteen, and gave a party. The class adviser adopted a "hands off" policy save for advice; and the class, under the direction of Margie Mondo, editor, and Sonny Harelson, sports editor, put out the paper themselves. Both students and faculty enjoyed their Tuesday noons reading the paper, and once again the versatility of Glendale Union High School was proved.

The shortest distance between Glendale and Twenty-fourth Street and East Van Buren is the publication of a year book. For the first time in two years a publication class was formed to publish the Cardinal, and it promptly found that before a book can go to press, the following must happen: Pictures must be taken, developed, printed, and enlarged. The book must be sketched page by page. Pictures must be proportioned to fit the plan. Captions and write-ups must be forthcoming. The cover must be designed. Ads must be secured. Books must be sold. Paper has to be selected. Bills must be paid. Proofs have to be read. And all of these things and many more must be done within a definite time limit. Wheeee—no wonder we're all crazy!

The Girls' Athletic Association

Helping ambitious GUHS co-eds obtain their coveted letters is just one purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association, plus instilling a love for good sportsmanship and a desire for better health habits in every sport-minded member. This large group is now in its eleventh year, and approximately one hundred girls are listed on its roster. A point system enables a girl to get her letter when she has reached high goals in scholarship, sportsmanship, inter-school and class games, individual sports, physical education grades, and training rules. Sponsored by Mrs. Martin, the group is governed by the GAA council, consisting of representatives of every class.

The Library And Office Assistants

Putting their commercial skills to use by actual practice, these girls assist in the library, attendance office, Dean of Girls' office, and main office during their free periods. While some of them are working just to gain experience, others of the more advanced students are being paid by the school. They are willing workers and eager to be of service to any adviser or visitor to the grounds of GUHS. It's a lot of work, but they have the satisfaction of knowing they are necessary cogs in the machinery that keeps a complex organization running smoothly.

Boys studying agriculture or those interested in becoming farmers are eligible for membership in the Future Farmers of America Club. The forty-one boys who make up the group, under the supervision of Mr. Owen Allen, strive to successfully complete a farm project for the year which he owns, operates, and on which he diligently keeps record of all profits or losses, learning the business end of agriculture in practice. There were numerous functions within the organization this year. The aspiring farmers sponsored the annual Harvest Dance, a junior fair, and various other enterprises as well as aiding in community drives and repairing farming equipment for local agriculturists.

Endeavoring to master the hundreds of small details and intricacies of good housekeeping, the Future Homemakers of America is a branch of a national group and is composed of approximately seventy-five girls. Under the direction of Mrs. Pauline Heitmeyer, the FHA can chalk up a successful year to its credit. They had a box supper, Stardust dance, served and prepared the Father-Son Banquet, gave the FHA Banquet, and had a notable entry in the Arizona State Fair. Membership in this organization is open to all students of home economics, and they may belong to the club all four high school years.

MUSIC

By Davis
And Co.

The largest department on the roster of clubs and school organizations, the music department, under the direction of Mr. Al Davis, has completed a full, useful season. There are several divisions of the music section, including the military band, dance band, western band, girls' chorus, and boys' chorus. The band's accomplishments for the year have been many, as they cooperated with all local and school affairs including the rodeo, state fair, football games, pep rallies, and played for nearly all school productions. The climax of the season was "The Mikado," an operetta presented by the chorus followed by the music festival and spring concert. All Glendale can well be proud of "Al's" music department.

CHORUS

MAJORETTES

Two outstanding groups of students are the Band Lettermen (opposite page) and Drum Majorettes. Working under their own sponsorship and captained by Louise Cromwell, the Drum Majorettes, Geraldine Judd, Jo Ann Newkom and Billy Jean Scott, have worked wholeheartedly and unselfishly with every school and local function. The Band Lettermen consist of a group of fifteen outstanding students of the music department who have made an astonishing number of public appearances and have completed unusual work in the field of music.

A Real Service Club, The Usherettes

The first organization of its kind in Glendale Union High School, the Usherette Club was founded to provide a permanent, trusty group to perform the ushering duties at school functions. Composed of approximately fifteen members under the advisership of Mrs. Harriette Imes, the girls have co-operated with many programs in the auditorium, the senior play, junior play, operetta, and other productions, besides working at football games during the season. The girls always dress suitably for the occasion, wearing sport clothes at some affairs and pastel formals at others.

Sometimes Things Just Creep Up On You

Things that you think you have all under control suddenly pop up up to hound you. For example, what can you do when a new faculty member joins the staff after the pictures of the faculty have been printed? Why, the only thing to do is portray him here as we have done. (Meet Mr. Jay Nelson, teacher of world history.) And what can you do when the custodial staff employs a new janitor? Why you catch up, as we have done, by printing his picture on this page. (Meet Mr. Al Wagenfehr). And what can you do when you print a picture of the drum majorettes and then discover you've omitted one of the young ladies? Why, you—but, shucks, you know the rest. (Meet Jo Ann Newkom.)

In Memoriam

It's strange to find a remembrance page between the activities section and the sports section of an annual, isn't it? And yet, knowing how Bobby and Bruce and Gordon participated in activities and sports, you can hardly help agreeing that no other spot in the book reflects their memory as appropriately.

We like to remember them. We like to remember them as they were—a vital part of GUHS—before the tragedy, the details of which all know—struck last summer.

We like to think of Bobby, the athlete. He was a supple and fleet end on the varsity football team and would have made many a touchdown this year. Bruce and he were inseparable companions and together they made the halls reverberate with clean, youthful laughter. It's almost unbelievable that one so full of life is finally silent.

We like to think of Bruce, the popular, good-looking mixer. He too played football—so fast he was that he also ran for the track squad. A graduate of Glendale Grammar School, his three-year stay here lingers pleasantly in the memories of his classmates.

We like to think of Gordon, the actor and office holder. So popular was he that he was elected president of the junior class. An excellent student, he starred in the junior play as well as in studies. His hobby was flying, and he would have graduated in three years with a few summer school credits.

There's a deep sense of loss because these boys aren't with us. We miss them awfully much.

The Story of the Season

CARNIVAL

Four teams from Glendale and Phoenix Union High Schools participated in the football carnival held on the Cardinal gridiron at the start of the season. The first, second, third, and fourth string teams played to test their skill for the coming season. Most of the games were close and hard fought, but when the final score was counted, the teams of Don Coyote held a majority score over the heads of the Cardinal eleven. The tussle was enjoyed by all who participated and had no bearing on the scores for the championship. Glendale's light-weight—130 pound backfield and 150 pound line—forecast the poor season ahead.

PRESCOTT

Although the first half of the Cardinal-Badger game was a woeful offensive exhibition, the Cards came to life in the second half to stun the powerful eleven with a 19-12 victory. First 6 points for Glendale were made by James Blasdell, but the conversion was wide. Next points were made by Sapien with a conversion by Wilson to give the Birds a 13-12 edge over the Badgers. Outstanding players were Dwaine Paxton, Keith Mayberry, Stome Tanita, and Norman Wilson who came through like champions to the defense of the G-men.

NORTH HIGH

After the victorious tussle with Prescott, the critics looked to the Glendale Cardinals to ride the Hosses through the goal-posts, but with a sudden spurt of energy from an ex-Card coach, Walt Ruth, the Mustangs galloped triumphantly away with a 21-7 win over the Redbirds. The G-men's score was accomplished by James Blasdell, who received the oval via a Chuckin' Charlie Sapien pass. The conversion by Norman Wilson racked up one extra point for the Cards.

One of the best pictures of the year, showing the grim despair and anxious hope the coach and team go through in the course of a game.

PHOENIX UNION

Don Coyote got off on the right paw in the Glendale-Phoenix Union game by scoring two touchdowns in the first quarter and defeating the Cardinals 31-0. This was the only game of the season in which the Redbirds failed to score, but the Phoenix eleven's roughness played havoc with their offense and even the referee's whistle. Harry Watanabe and Keith Mayberry took the cake as best Card defenders, with great blocking and tackling to spill would-be runners with vicious tumbles.

Ever hear the story of Coach Gieseke's swivel chair? Well, it all started in the boiler house . . . and somehow it wound up on the football field.

YUMA

Although they lost the game 19-6, the Glendale Cardinals played their best game of the year against the Yuma Criminals. The Crims, after jumping into a 13-0 lead, unexpectedly discovered they had a battle on their hands. At the end of the first period Yuma had a 19-6 lead, and there the Red and Gold held the score. In the final minutes, the G-Men began a 45-yard run to the Yuma 27-yard line, only to have the clock run out. Mike Eaglin, Scott Sagawa, and Richard Brooks held the spotlight for star performance.

MESA

Badly out-distanced in weight, experience, and reserves, the Glendale Cardinals suffered a 38-7 loss to Mesa Jackrabbits in a hard-fought battle. Outstanding all-around man for the Redbirds was Norman Wilson with Harry Watanabe and Stome Tanita close-behind. The Rabbits started the tussle off with a bang with three quick touchdowns in the first four minutes of play, but were held to just three TD's during the remainder of the game. Glendale's touchdown was made on a Sapien pass to Watanabe, then back to Sapien, and so to Liby who made the score with Watanabe supplying the conversion.

GLOBE

Slithering through the menacing line of Globe Tigers, the Glendale Cardinals won the tussle by a wide margin, 24-6. From the first kick-off until the clock ran out the G-Men really clicked, even though they met with a good deal of stiff opposition from the tough Tiger line. Richard Brooks, Stome Tanita, and Dwain Paxton came through handsomely to top place on the list of Red and Gold defenders, with Scott Sagawa a close second. The score was tied at half time, but the Cards toted the oval with ease the rest of the game to a final victory.

Top: Sagawa, Moreno, and Meinholt. Center: Two Tempe Men stop Watanabe. Lower: Wilson snags a high pass in practice.

TEMPE

In a hard-fought grid-battle on Tempe's home field, Glendale suffered a minor loss as their passing attack failed to click. Although the luck ran against the Red birds, Keith Mayberry and Norman Wilson did a championship job of blocking and tackling the eleven Tempe huskies. Chuckin' Charlie Sapien's passes failed to connect properly on the receiving end and resulted in the TDs for the victors. Glendale's one score was made by tiny Stome Tanita who slipped through the Bear's line to score. Conversion added another point to tie at the end of the 3rd quarter. Final points were made for the Bisons in the last minutes of play.

TUCSON

Destined to lose from the start, the Glendale Cardinals nevertheless put up a lot of stiff opposition to the powerful Tucson Badgers on the Cardinal home field. The majority of the Glendale plays were fairly successful except for the Sapien passes fumbled by the intended recipients. The maneuvering of men was shrewd, but the fast-thinking Badgers blocked the Card attempts to score up until the last quarter when tricky Richard Brooks broke through for a six-pointer for the G-Men. The Cards set up an unofficial national record this year for passes thrown and passes completed.

ST. MARY'S

Even though the Cardinals worried the mail-clad Knights with sneak plays and tricky line shifts, they still managed to put a 2-point margin on their score to defeat the Glendale eleven, 15-13, in a fight to the finish in the Phoenix Union Stadium. First Cardinal score was completed by Dwain Paxton when he recovered a pass from a Knight chucker and carried the pigskin for the TD. Conversion failed, and no other score was made until the last half when Stome Tanita flashed through the heavy line to score the extra points for the Redbirds.
